WRITE N° 1

ONLINE EDUCATION

We think that online education can be very useful for people. For example, it improves interactions between students and teachers. This helps solve problems or doubts that students have. Another advantage is that we have the possibility of choosing the class schedule and adapting it to our convenience. Also, the development of digital skills can be very useful for people. However, there are also disadvantages in this education model, Access to technology in a poor country like Ecuador is difficult to normalize, which is why those students who do not have a technological device would be left out of the educational system. Another disadvantage is the reduction of personal interactions that can lead young people to face a severe depression due to loneliness, and finally, excessive exposure to the screens of technological devices, which can cause health problems for students.
